

CoreNet Global Chapter Learning Community

The Role of the Chapter Learning Community

The Chapter Learning Community exists to share and capture best practices, to explore opportunities and increase continuity and understanding within chapter boards as it relates to improving the delivery of chapter learning programs.

The Role of the Chapter Learning Advisory Committee and Staff

The Chapter Learning Advisory Committee and staff will facilitate opportunities for this Community to convene. The role of the Chapter Learning Advisory Committee is to moderate Community meetings and to help capture ideas that may be useful in global practices. The role of staff is limited to capturing and disseminating information to the Community, as well as answering and directing specific program-related questions.

September 12, 2007 Meeting Summary

Attendees:

Todd Anderson - Southern California (TA)
Deedee Hildebrand – Houston (DH)
Michael Benham – Michigan (MB)
Karen Murphy – CNG (KM)

Topic: Discuss your last chapter learning program

TA (Southern California) – Advanced Lease Negotiations with Tom McDonald. Had about 50 people in attendance. Very engaging. Lots of attendee appreciation. 4 hour program. Next one is on green buildings with Adobe's retrofit, LEED certification for an existing building. Also M&A presentation by Oracle team. First saw them at the Denver Summit. They replicated a longer version for the chapter.

DH (Houston) – Mark Palmer's workshop on Building Green was very good. 1-1/2 hours.

MB (Michigan) – Our next scheduled one is Todd's course on RETI. Last course was on audit rights for leasing held by Scott Silver with local tax attorneys. Well attended about 30 people.

DH (Houston) – We also held Utilities course with John Studebaker. Really fascinating. 40 -50 people. Wished for a longer program.

MB (Michigan) – 3-1/2 hours with John Studebaker on Utilities. About 35 people. It's a bit of a dry subject, but it is as advertised.
